ABOUT Y-WE

Our mission is to empower young women from diverse backgrounds to step up as leaders in their schools, communities, and the world. We exist to make sure every young woman is equipped with the confidence, resiliency and leadership skills needed to achieve her goals and improve her community.

Y-WE Participants: We center our work around young women in 8th-12th grade, college-age women, and beyond. 80% of our participants are women of color, 60% of are from immigrant communities, and 90% of our participants are from low-income families. Last year alone, we reached more than 650 participants, and that reach continues to grow. Our youth and mentors also represent myriad family, sexual orientation, religious, political, and educational backgrounds. The majority of our participants live and work all across the Puget Sound.

Y-WE Impact: Y-WE participants work with mentors to set and meet goals for their futures, dream BIG, and participate in more than 15 unique Y-WE programs. We support our youth with college applications, jobs skills, and service projects. Participants receive over 100 hours of mentorship, which improves their academic achievements, self-confidence, public speaking, and leadership skills. 95% of Y-WE youth report that our programs help them to achieve their college and career goals, and go on to college after graduating from our programs.

Y-WE Ignite: Ignite is our keystone fundraising gala, and features a meaningful evening of networking, inspiring performances by Y-WE participants, and delicious food and drinks. When the first pilot year of Y-WE ended without future funding in place, the participants banded together – and raised the funds themselves to carry the program forward on their own. How? They independently hosted an international dinner to bring together supporters and champions of young women’s leadership – the first Ignite. Today, we welcome more than 350 donors and key organizational stakeholders each year. Over $250,000 will be raised for full scholarships, ensuring we can honor our core commitment to ensuring access to Y-WE programs for all interested, regardless of ability to pay.

Ignite is more than a fundraiser: it’s a night that transforms the future.
We hope you’ll partner with us to ignite the power and potential of young women to change our world.
